BROOKLYN N.Y. 1917

NAVY YARD STATION

U.S. POSTAGE 2 CENTS 2

Miss. Frances Levine,
70 Somers St.,
Brooklyn,
N. Y.

June 29th, 1917.

My darling Frances:-

Went to bed last night at about 9 o'clock no more than laid down & fell asleep, when Lolly woke me up saying that Leve was here, so I got up and there was my room-mate. He came pretty late, but he was here just the same. I was sorry you couldn't meet him, but it can't be helped. He is going home on Monday & then will leave Boston on the 23rd of July, but he says he will not be able to come to the house before he goes.

Mamma was pretty sore last night because you didn't wait for supper. She purposely had prepared things for you, but you could not wait, of course, so that's why she got that way.

I am tired, honey, as I went back to bed at 11.30 and slept till 4, so you see I didn't have much rest at that, so will close now with all my love to you, my heroine,

Lovingly

Joe,